

Company Profile

Work Rehab is an accredited workplace rehabilitation provider that has been assisting Australians to recover at work, return to work and be safe at work since 2011.

Recovery from injury or illness can be a difficult journey and requires specialist care.

Work Rehab's health professionals provide this specialist care, and we work with all stakeholders to ensure the best possible outcomes. As experts in occupational health, we support and manage a person's recovery so they can successfully return to work and lead a healthier, happier and more productive life.

We provide workplace rehabilitation services for all state-based workers' compensation schemes, Comcare, Department of Veteran Affairs, self-insured employers, income protection, life insurance and CTP insurance. We are a preferred provider to many first responder organisations and an appointed panel provider to WorkCover Queensland and icare. We work directly with employers in early intervention, prevention and wellbeing services.

At Work Rehab we understand there is no 'one size fits all' rehabilitation. Every client is an individual and every employer has different needs. We provide a holistic and personalised approach to care, recovery and injury prevention.

What we do

As an accredited and experienced workplace rehabilitation provider we:

- assist people to recover at work and or return to work.
- assist people to achieve their life goals.
- transition people to different careers and workplaces.
- support people with health and wellbeing at work.

WORKPLACE REHABILITATION

The evidence is clear. The longer a person is away from work after injury, the more difficult it is for them to return. We facilitate a safe and timely return to work.

INJURY MANAGEMENT

Where goals are not work related, we focus on early intervention and psychosocial factors with the client at the centre of planning and recovery.

INJURY PREVENTION

Risk mitigation creates safer and healthier workplaces. Investment in injury prevention strategies can reduce future risk, insurance premiums and costs to business.

CORPORATE HEALTH

Healthy happy workplaces result in healthy happy workers. Corporate health is an organisational effort toward individual employee health and wellbeing.
